Profile

I'm a web developer who enjoys building creative, scalable, and secure applications. With a strong foundation in Data Structures, Algorithms, and Object-Oriented Programming, I work across both frontend and backend technologies including HTML, CSS, JavaScript, React.js, Node.js, and Express. My experience extends to database management with MongoDB and I'm comfortable working in Agile environments involving analysis, coding, testing, and deployment. I'm driven by problem-solving, effective collaboration, and a passion for learning emerging technologies to deliver impactful user experiences.
